☆☆☆ THE CTWC ☆☆☆

The eighth annual Classic Tetris World Championship (“CTWC”) will be held at the Portland Retro Gaming Expo in the Portland Convention Center on Oct. 21 and 22. A tournament that was originally spawned during the production of the award-winning Tetris documentary, “Ecstasy of Order: The Tetris Masters” in 2010, the CTWC has since come into its own as a world-class e-sports spectacular. On the big weekend, former champs Harry Hong (2014) and Jonas Neubauer (2016), as well as new competitors such as European Champ Jani Herlevi and Japanese Tetris Grand Master Koryan will all descend on Portland with dreams of Tetris glory.

Thanks to the CTWC, interest in mastering the classic version of NES Tetris has exploded. At the time of CTWC I, there were only three players in the world known to have reached the maximum score of a million points. Entering CTWC VII, there are 29 verified “Max-Outs” and counting! With most of those Max-Out artists competing, competition is sure to be intense.

The Portland Retro Gaming Expo is the largest event of its kind and continues to grow each year, with nearly 12,500 people expected to attend over the weekend, with eager gamers flying in from all over the country for the once-a-year opportunity.

The CTWC is the marquee event of the expo, holding the top spot on the PRGE website in the months leading to the big weekend. Expo director Chuck Van Pelt has reserved the largest space available for the tournament, positioning it for maximum visibility.

Over the two days, thousands of passers-by will marvel at the amazing Tetris spectacle presented on a giant 25-foot screen. The message is loud and clear to all in attendance:

Tetris is the king of video games!

☆☆☆ LIVE STREAM ☆☆☆

With previous tournaments enticing nearly 500 live spectators joined by nearly 50k online viewers during the Final 8, the tournament takes on the air of a major sporting event. The built-in suspense of classic Tetris really connects with the crowd, and keeps the audience gasping in awe at the death-defying feats of the contestants.

The CTWC could not exist without the help of our amazingly generous sponsors. Of course, the tournament begins with the simple but classic game and the players who have mastered it, but thanks to previous sponsors such as Electronic Arts, Ubisoft, Blue Planet Software, Ideascale, and many others, the CTWC has elevated to the level of a full-scale sporting event. We've developed our own live streaming technology to capture the excitement of competitive Tetris. Live player cams, game displays, and color commentary are composited into a HD stream that can be viewed live in real-time around the world. There are several opportunities for logo placement in the stream depending on your level of sponsorship.

To take the next leap, partnering with the right sponsors that share our vision will be essential. As the CTWC brand continues to expand to the Classic Tetris European Championship in Copenhagen, as well as satellite tournaments in Texas, Singapore, and drawing competitors from as far as Japan, opportunities for exposure are growing exponentially.
